Futurama

Decentralized NFT Marketplace

It's one of the leading ecosystem platform with the open code based on the Ethereum blockchain and it's also a decentralized autonomous organization created in April 2021.

They manage the FuturCast protocol and the financial risks of NFT CryptoCans, ensuring stability, transparency and efficiency of work.

A scientifically grounded management system has been built for this. And it provides for polls and administrative voting.

NFTs will make a billion dollar market and popularize blockchain. It's a promising sector of development of crypto market with hundreds of millions of potential users.

It's a limited edition and classified series of 1000 unique collectible digital art with verifying ownership stored on the Ethereum blockchain. The collection was formed from the end of 2017 till now. The creative collaboration with world well-known artists has definitely made a significant contribution to modern digital crypto art.

The official representative of FUTURAMA NFT CryptoCans is world well-known Italian artist Stefano Monda

Stefano Monda, better known as "Stear", devoted himself to the art of hyperrealism and caricature.

A lover of experimentation, innovation and new styles creation, and this is what led him in 2018 to the fact he accidentally drew several sketches that transform and translocate people into the animated series world: THE SIMPSONS.

Among the fans of his work: Ronaldinho, Beckham, Justin Bieber, Will Smith and other world celebrities.

Futurama NFT CryptoCans is not only NFT collectibles, but a well-thought out value creation mechanism. Token economy and rewards will exceed the most famous DeFi projects. The collection is the first of all future NFT collections and new ecosystem projects, and the most valuable among all of it

THE WORLDWIDE PROJECT

Futurama NFT CryptoCans purpose in 2022 is to become one of the top-3 projects on global NFT market and to increase the collection capitalization to $100 million.

Forbes selected the most interesting NFT projects and noted Futurama NFT CryptoCans as one of the main events in the NFT market in 2021.

Unlike other NFT projects that mint new NFTs with no idea, CryptoCans has a unique format, its own history of creating "value", a classification that will play an important role in providing incentives within a large-scale ecosystem, as well as great prospects for the economy development related to the collection.

Futurion is a digital platform with a unique ecosystem of investment products and instruments for network business that help clients and partners all around the world to achieve a financial independence and to receive a modern business education.

The platform has a variety of income distribution patterns, combining NFT and DeFi, as well as a stable service of digital asset deposit through the Digital License purchasing.

Every 2-3 months new investment products will be launched on the Futurion platform according to the principles of excellence and profitability. Each of these products will differ not only in terms of affiliate MLM marketing, but also in profitability.

The internal medium of exchange is the FTR asset, which is a value standard and also an intermediary in the sale, purchase or exchange of goods and services within the www.futurion.finance platform. FTR is a standard unit in which the value of goods and services is expressed. The target FTR value is 1 USD (1 FTR = 1 USD).

Outside the www.futurion.finance platform it isn't used as a standard measure of value, but it does within the Futurion ecosystem and in some decentralized blockchain apps. Thus, the calculations or pricing on the www.futurion.finance platform and in decentralized apps is done in the FTR and not in a government currency like the US dollar.

1 FFC = 0.01 FTR

Users generate FFCs by depositing collateral assets into the Futurion Foundation storage within the internal autonomous protocol. This is how the FFC gets into circulation and increases the general offer. The token price increases, respectively, and correlate with the new offer. The tokens are automatically burned when users sell tokens back.

The FFC liquidity is maintained by keepers, price oracles and the Futurama NFT CryptoCans (Futurion Foundation) reserve balance. Thanks to this, the token value is always growing. Participants should be not worried about the volatility of price - this means a more sustainable community, with no possibility of market manipulation or quick pump and dump schemes.
